

When we graduated in May 2010 most of us were moving home. The circumstances were out of our control. We had graduated at the height of the recession. We were nervous. We dreaded that infamous question – “what next?” The truth is, we didn’t know! Today, I